Announcement Title * Response to Query From The Business Times

Description

In response to a query from The Business Times ("BT") today on the possible restructuring and relisting of the Group's property business, we set out below for information, the Company's reply to BT as follows:

"Thank you your email query today on the possible restructuring and relisting of the Group's property business.

As a multi-industry business group, this question is posed to us frequently by investors. As you may be aware, your paper had also speculated on this in an article by Conrad Raj back in November 2007.

From time to time, the Company carries out reviews of strategic options for its businesses and investments, with the objective of building on long term business value for stakeholders which has resulted in a number of acquisition and disposal transactions in the past. As part of such reviews, the Company is contemplating various options for its range of businesses and investments. However, no decision has been made in relation to any such options todate."
